Our Guided Trips

Our canoe trips are led by Master Maine Guides who have worked as professional river guides for over 20 years. Of all the rivers our guides have worked the St. John holds a special place in their hearts. Our tradition of running the St. John goes back a generation and our guides history of both working trips and as volunteers maintaining campsites for North Maine Woods predates the existence of Sunrise. The St. John is the longest trip we regularly run often leading two trips a season with three not unheard of and rarely missing a year so it comes as no surprise that our guides have spent close to a year of their lives poling, paddling, exploring, and sharing this magnificent river.

Getting To and Staying In Bangor

If you are driving from the south allow 4 hours from Boston and 2 hours from Portland using I295.

If you are flying in to Bangor (BGR) there are several daily flights connecting New York, D.C., and Philadelphia with seasonal service connecting Chicago and Charlotte.

The trip meets at the Comfort Inn, Bangor. Depending on the size of the trip we may have a block of rooms set aside but try to make your reservation as soon as possible. Having everyone in the same place the night helps make meeting, packing, and departing much more efficient.

Phone: (207) 990-0888

If you are flying out of Bangor after the trip you will need to make a reservation for the night after the trip as well for your flight out the next day.

Day 1- First Day

We have a four hour ride to the river so it is important to get an early start. On the way, we will register at the North Maine Woods checkpoint outside of Millinocket.

At the river, your guides will conduct a safety briefing and brief canoe orientation before heading down river including tips on packing your gear and group gear in your canoe and basic canoeing techniques. Usually we have lunch during the orientation/packing session, though sometimes we are able to head down river a ways before stopping for lunch.

Camping

Camping is at designated, spacious, beautiful, primitive sites along the river. These sites will have a picnic table, established fire ring, privy, and some may have picnic shelters. As a rule, most of the sites on the St. John were old farms, homesteads, or logging depots at one time and it takes a few minutes to explore the possibilities before deciding on the best tent site for your evening space. Other than these few simple improvements there are no other services available along the river.

At your first camp, your guide(s) will assist you in setting up your tenting area for the first time including instruction on pitching your tent if you are using an unfamiliar model. After that there is time for swimming, fishing, exploring or just relaxing while dinner is being prepared by your guide(s) over an open fire.

Meals

Morning and evening meals are prepared by your guide over an open fire. The entrees change each day. Typical morning meals include ham and eggs, french toast and bacon, and pancakes with sausage accompanied with fresh fruit, cereal, juice, coffee, and tea. Evening meals include chicken stir fry, breaded pork chops with green beans, marinated steak with rice, or pasta dishes with a hearty red or white sauce accompanied by appetizer, wine, and dessert. Lunches are buffet style with deli meats and cheeses, bread or wraps, fresh fruits and vegetables, pickles, chips, and cookies.

Your guide will go over the planned menu with you before your trip and welcome any input regarding personal preference or dietary requirements you may have.

Fishing

Fishing is primarily for Brook trout or Muskie (Muskelunge) and it is not uncommon for anglers to bring two completely different sets of rigging in order to chase both species. If fishing is a priority for you or your party an 8-day itinerary is recommended especially if you are going during the second half of the season.

If you plan to fish, a Maine fishing license is required. 7-day and seasonal licenses can be obtained online through the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife website www.maine.gov/ifw/licenses\_permits/fishing.htm or at most fishing supply retailers.

Day 2-3

The river grows noticeably as the waters of the Southwest and Northwest branches are added to the flow.

Day 4

At Seven islands the river widens and the flow braids around the numerous alluvial islands which give this beautiful valley it's name. 8-day itineraries will enjoy a short canoeing day somewhere along this stretch of the river.

Day 5-6

The confluence of the Big Black river just below the rapids magnifies the river to grand proportions for the final stage of the trip.

Day 7/8- Last Day

After covering the last few miles of the trip, we will negotiate Big rapids just before taking out and beginning our ride back to Bangor.

On this last day, we plan to arrive at the take out by noon or shortly after. After packing up and having lunch we will begin our four hour ride back to Bangor. If you are flying out of Bangor the next day be sure to have made accommodations in Bangor for this night.
